

They loved NFTY Convention. Now what?

This report shows the teens from your congregation who attended NFTY Convention 2017 and which URJ Youth program(s) they are registered for this summer.

There are many ways you can work with your teens to help them extend their Convention experience!

Over four days at NFTY Convention, teens selected a social justice topic to learn more about and identified new ways to get involved. NFTY also launched a Racial Justice Campaign. Here are a few ways you can support them in bringing this experience home:

- Invite them to speak from the bimah
- Create space for them to share their stories with younger teens
- Share resources on NFTY’s social justice issues

Check out resources, photos and videos from NFTY Convention to learn more.

What’s Next?

Know a great teen leader? Have a world-changer in your midst? There’s a URJ summer program for each of them. Check out the programs below and speak with these teens about which program is right for them.

Teen Name	Grade	Social Justice Track at NFTY Convention	Current Enrollment for Summer 2017
Halley Kirshenbaum	11th	Racial Justice	Not yet enrolled
Hannah-Kate Loy	11th	Mental Health & Wellness	Not yet enrolled
Mitchell Toher	12th	Pluralism in Israel	GUCI Staff
Adam Major	12th	Interfaith Relations	Not yet enrolled
Jolie Pressburger	9th	Immigration	GUCI
Sam Rubin	9th	Interfaith Relations	Not yet enrolled

Teens who attended NFTY Convention can receive $200 off one of these programs. Use code NFTYCon17 by March 15

Expand your creative arts, songleading, and social action skills at NFTY’s summer home.

Transform your education with the most experienced high school program in Israel.

Fight for equality and justice in communities around the world.

A once-in-a-lifetime chance to hike, climb, discover, and explore Israel with friends for life.