

They loved NFTY Convention. Now what?

This report shows the teens from your congregation who attended NFTY Convention 2017 and which URJ Youth program(s) they are registered for this summer.

There are many ways you can work with your teens to help them extend their Convention experience!

Over four days at NFTY Convention, teens selected a social justice topic to learn more about and identified new ways to get involved. NFTY also launched a Racial Justice Campaign. Here are a few ways you can support them in bringing this experience home:

- Invite them to speak from the bimah
- Create space for them to share their stories with younger teens
- Share resources on NFTY's social justice issues

Check out resources, photos and videos from NFTY Convention to learn more.

What's Next?

Know a great teen leader? Have a world-changer in your midst? There's a URJ summer program for each of them. Check out the programs below and speak with these teens about which program is right for them.

Teen Name	Grade	Social Justice Track at NFTY Convention	Current Enrollment for Summer 2017
Robert Newman	10th	Economic Justice	Camp Harlam, NFTY in Israel
Gracie Silverstein	10th	Mental Health & Wellness	NFTY in Israel
Joshua Warsaw	10th	Racial Justice	NFTY in Israel
Cooper Wolff	10th	Racial Justice	NFTY in Israel
Lindsay Gilbert	11th	Pluralism in Israel	Camp Harlam
Liam Nienshultz	12th	Interfaith Relations	GUCI Staff
Alexander Green	12th	Mental Health & Wellness	Not yet enrolled
Joey Levin	10th	Interfaith Relations	NFTY in Israel

Teens who attended NFTY Convention can receive $200 off one of these programs. Use code NFTYCon17 by March 15

Expand your creative arts, songleading, and social action skills at NFTY's summer home.

Transform your education with the most experienced high school program in Israel.

Fight for equality and justice in communities around the world.

A once-in-a-lifetime chance to hike, climb, discover, and explore Israel with friends for life.